Tax loss hampers Venice

Substantial losses in tax revenue will confront Venice and some Venice Township tax agencies this year as the result of a $2,800,000 reduction in the Union Electric Co. plant at Venice, it was learned by the Press-Record Friday.

The reduction was approved by the Madison County Board of Review in a hearing at Edwardsville early Friday afternoon as a compromise of an earlier request by company officials for a downward assessment adjustment that would have cut approximately $8 million from the valuation of the plant.

James Barton, county superintendent of assessments, told the Press-Record that he and the review board members considered the $2.8 million reduction a "far better" arrangement than the company's earlier demand that the 1975 Union Electric assessment—on which tax will be collected later this year—be reduced to one-third of the fair cash value.

The agreement will result in a loss of about $95,000 in tax revenue for Venice School District 3. Of that loss, $74,000 will be in the educational fund.

Robbers active

Two armed robberies were reported to local authorities Thursday, the first a morning robbery at Smith's Grocery, 210 Roosevelt St., Eagle Park Acres, and the second at 9:55 p.m. Thursday at the Taco Hut, 2666 Madison Ave.

One juvenile was arrested at 3 a.m. Friday on a curfew charge and was questioned about the Taco Hut robbery and an armed robbery Tuesday at the Olympic Service Station, 20th and Adams streets. He was released at 5:40 a.m. Friday without charges being filed, pending further investigation.

The first armed robbery Thursday was reported to Madison County Sheriff's deputies at 11:40 a.m. when the owner of Smith's Grocery in Eagle Park Acres said a lone gunman entered and stole about $50 from the cash register and his wallet, containing about $35 to $40.

He said a light colored small car drove up in front of the store and a passenger in the car entered the grocery and asked for $1 worth of bologna. He asked the owner if he would like to purchase some whiskey and when the owner declined, the man displayed a gun and demanded the money from the cash register.

He also ordered the owner to call an employee from the back room into the front of the store. He held both at gunpoint while (Continued on Page 16)

Vote tallies agree

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Allegations that about 80 votes cast Tuesday in Venice Precinct 6 were not counted were investigated Friday by Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles, who said she found the number of applications at that precinct agrees exactly with the number of persons who voted.

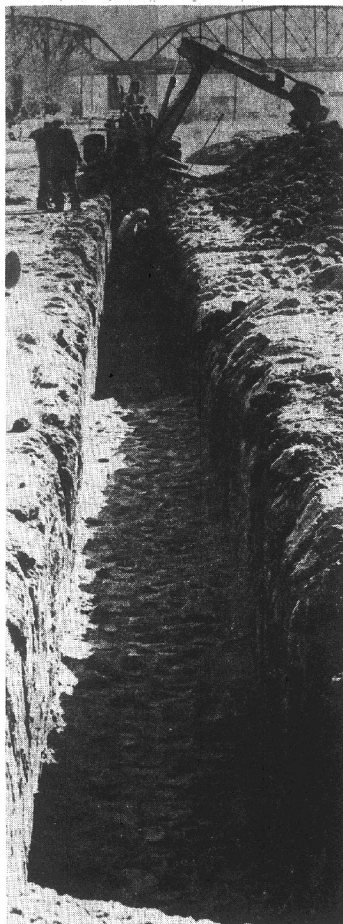

Supporters of Gary Novich, who failed by 10 votes to defeat Arthur "Cooper" Moore as District 24 County Board member, 924-905, said Friday they intend to contest the results in Venice Precinct 6, and possibly Venice precincts 7 and 8.

They contended an unofficial head count of persons voting at Precinct 6 showed about 80 more persons voted than the vote tally showed.

Informed by the Press-Record about the allegations, Miss Bowles received permission from the canvass board to open the sealed Venice Precinct 6 vote bags and the check showed 333 Democratic and eight Republican voter applications, exactly the same numbers of ballots the machines recorded.

Miss Bowles also investigated an allegation that the lever for State Sen. Sam Vadalaabene would not operate on a machine at Granite City Precinct 32, saying the unofficial vote tally showed 234 Democratic votes at that precinct for Vadalaabene out of 490 voters, a higher percentage than Vadalaabene received at most precincts.

She said that the report the Vadalaabene lever would not operate, made by a Press-Record reporter, was not telephoned in to her by poll (Continued on Page 16)

Peters Construction Co. of Granite City is the contractor. The .614-mile project is to be completed this summer.

Boy, 16, killed—versions disagree

Eugene Presley, 45, of 2410 Edison Ave., was charged Friday afternoon with involuntary manslaughter in the shooting death of about 5:30 p.m. Thursday of 16-year-old Anthony Bruce Waits of 2127 Troy Ave., Cloverleaf Addition.

The shooting occurred at the Cloverleaf Tavern, 2000 Hildebrand St., in the Cloverleaf Addition near Madison.

Witnesses told Madison County sheriff's investigators that there had been two disturbances in the tavern.

They said the victim was shot during the second disturbance, allegedly by the bartender, who was Presley.

Presley said, "A fight started between the kid (Mr. Waits) and a guy named Jerry. I got my gun."

"I fired one shot into the floor. I fired another shot and the kid jumped in front of me."

Presley said there had been an earlier disturbance in the tavern during which he had been struck by a pool cue.

Other witnesses alleged only one shot had been fired and had struck Mr. Waits directly in the chest, the bullet going into his heart.

Deputies recovered a .22-caliber handgun believed to have been used in the shooting. Mr. Waits was pronounced dead in the tavern by Madison County Deputy Coroner Lucy Lucido at 6:05 p.m. Thursday.

Madison police received the first report of the shooting at 5:31 p.m. Thursday and alleged that Presley told them he had shot the young man accidentally.

Mr. Waits' relatives said they talked to witnesses to the incident and believe Mr. Waits and a friend had been there to play pool, the victim had been served a drink, they alleged.

A woman, who was the mother of one of Mrs. Waits' friends, said she saw the victim's car at the tavern and stopped to see if he would like to follow her and talk to her son.

She agreed to stay and play a game of pool. During that time, a man who was believed to be inebriated made comments to the woman. The other young man with Mr. Waits attempted to stop the man.

A scuffle ensued, Mr. Waits was not involved, witnesses told their relatives.

They alleged a man then got a pistol, came from behind the bar, approached the victim and shot him.

Also behind the bar was Mr. Presley's wife, Patricia, Regor's specified. Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer issued a liquor license about March 12 to Patricia E. Sorlie for the Cloverleaf Tavern. Presley has a police record, officials said. Madison County state's attorney's office is investigating circumstances surrounding the shooting and their effect on the status of the new liquor license. (Continued on Page 16)

Fire at elevator

A piece of paper which was drawn by air into a 65-foot heating chute is believed to have been the cause of a fire Saturday at the Archer-Daniels-Midland Processing Co. elevator, 3601 Cargill Road.

The blaze resulted in $10,000 damage to one of the buildings adjacent to the main elevator and $5,000 loss to 300 bushels of soybeans that were being dried in a grain dryer.

Firemen said pillars of thick black smoke were rising from the area upon their arrival at 7:15 a.m. Saturday. It took them until 9:30 a.m. to extinguish the blaze, which they were able to prevent from spreading to other areas.

Robert Edgewood, manager, noted that the structure of iron and sheet metal is located north of the main storage bins at the elevator complex, and that the dryer was not a main piece of equipment but had been used only on occasions.

Edgewood commended "fast action by alert employees" who discovered the fire and turned in the alarm before damage to other equipment in the area occurred.

On and off the record

Weather outlook for this region

Considerable sunshine today with high in the 50s. Partly cloudy tonight. Low in the mid to upper 30s. Sunny and warmer Tuesday with high near 70. Fair and warmer Wednesday through Friday. Lows in the 50s and highs about 70. Little or no precipitation.

Seek jail construction bids

The agenda for the Madison County Board's March meeting at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday includes a resolution asking permission to advertise for bids on construction of a new county jail.

Jail authorization and financing took place previously, and detailed plans and specifications have been completed. The facility will replace the present county jail, which is more than a century old.

Also scheduled is a resolution authorizing the county to enter into contracts with Venice and other communities to undertake projects implementing the 1975 community development program.

Demolition of unsafe buildings and structures is to be authorized, and bids are to be acted upon for Courthouse lobby improvements planned as the county's U. S. Bicentennial project.

Substantial profit by Smith

A. O. Smith Corporation expects to report a substantial profit in the first quarter, compared with a loss a year ago, L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, said Friday.

He predicted profits from continuing operations will be the range of $4.2 million to $4.7 million, or from 85 to 95 cents per share, on sales of about $145 million.

In the first quarter of 1975, losses from continuing operations were $627,000, or 13 cents per share. Because of a small profit from discontinued operations last year, actual net profit for the first quarter was $333,000, or seven cents per share. Sales a year ago were $101 million.

In addition to the profits expected from continuing operations, Chairman Smith said there will be a modest gain in the first quarter from the sale of the Motor Systems Division to Gensource, Inc., which was effective Jan. 1, 1976.

The biggest improvement in operations in the first quarter this year will come from the Automotive and Electric Meter Divisions. Surging sales of vehicles using isolated separate frames manufactured by the Automotive Division in Milwaukee and Granite City will push division sales and profits well ahead of a year ago.

Carl Heaton to be honored

Carl Heaton, now 90, of the Archer-Daniels-Midland Processing Co., will be honored at a meeting of the Tri-City Labor Temple Association at 7:30 tonight for his 40 years of service as president of the association.

He became president in 1936 and will be presented with a watch.

Heaton is a retired Granite City postmaster.

Would wooden leg be war trophy?

Mexican General Santa Anna's wooden leg is the subject of a legal opinion rendered Friday by Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott.

Illinois Adjutant General Harold R. Patton asked Scott if state law permitted lending the leg to the National Guard Bicentennial Gallery in Washington, D. C., for a 1976 Bicentennial celebration.

In his reply to Patton, Scott noted that Illinois law prohibits the adjutant general from loaning the colors, flags, guidons and trophies of war belonging to the state.

Scott's letter advised that Patton will have to determine for himself whether or not the leg is a trophy of war.

The general's wooden leg was captured by members of the 1st Regiment, Illinois Volunteers, at the Battle of Cerro Gordo on April 18, 1847, during the Mexican War.

Colorful costumes and a brilliantly illuminated Bicentennial cake were used by the Scene Stealers, a performing group from the Granite City Steel Women's Association, which entertained the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club last week.

Officers for 1976-77 were elected at the dinner meeting and delegates were chosen for the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's (IFBPW) state convention, set April 22 to April 25 at the Palmer House in Chicago.

More than 100 members and guests attended the smorgasbord dinner, prepared by Women of the Moose Chapter 247 at the Moose Lodge, 19th and Adams streets. The menu included corned beef and cabbage, roast beef, salads and various desserts.

Mrs. Rosemary Basenden, IFBPW president, welcomed the guests, and Mrs. Emylee Alford, Bicentennial chairman, was in charge of the program. The dining room was decorated with small flags and bunting, appropriate to the nation's 200th birthday, and the tables were set with red, white and blue ribbons and holding red roses. The head table held a large white basket of red roses.

The decorative centerpiece, created by Mrs. Alford, Mrs. Rosalie Portell and Mrs. Evette Willis, are among the appointments to be used at the Red, White and Blue Awards Banquet, scheduled Friday, April 24 at the state convention. Mrs. Basenden announced the Granite City club will be host at the gala affair.

The Scene Stealers presented a playlet concerning the designing and sewing of the first official U.S. flag by four women in history, whose initial efforts are rejected by their famous husbands. The skits concluded with a stirring patriotic speech by George Washington and was followed by a dance number. As the finale, a huge cake was wheeled into the dimly lighted room, its focal point—a replica of Independence Hall—was surrounded with over 100 white cupcakes, each centered with a burning candle.

The miniature building was topped with a tall sparkler and the over-all effect was well-received by the audience. The cakes were served by the Scene Stealers.

Among the Granite City Steel Women performing were Virginia Knitting, Ruby Streiber, Edith Headrick, Billie Mae Wilson, Joan Crawford, Geraldine Dublar, Virginia Johnson, Peggy Solberger, Gwen Taylor and Wanda MacDonough, who wrote and produced and directed the presentation.

Prior to the business meeting, Mrs. Basenden presided at the state convention, and Mrs. Carolyn Loester, the Granite City Young Careerist candidate who appeared at the district conference.

Other activities reviewed included attendance the past weekend at the annual "Legislative Conference" at the St. Nicholas Hotel, Springfield, and the club's "Prayer Breakfast," set March 29 at the Venice Recreation Center. Information and reservations for the latter event may be obtained from Mrs. Delores Klesh, at 876-1838.

Mrs. Birdie Meyenburg, an EKG technician at St. Elizabeth Hospital, was inducted into the club by Mrs. Barbara Hodges, membership chairman. Delegates selected to represent the club at the state convention, include Mrs. Basenden, Barbara Wyatt, Judith McCann, Barbara Hodges, Sylvia Wright, LaVelle Stephens, Verna Lengyel, Anna Mae Gates, Betty Nugent, Gladys Newman, Edna Kohlbrecher, Lorene Sadrakula and Betty Roberson. Alternates chosen were Louise Lewis, Valerie Evenden and Kathryn Smithson.

The annual public relations dinner will take place April 21 at Charlie's Restaurant, Mrs. Shirley Adams, chairman, reported.

A "Woman in History" program will be introduced this week, with the winner to be announced at the April meeting, she said. Members of the news and broadcasting media also will be honored at the dinner.

Congratulations were extended by the club to Mrs. Betty Roberson, winner of the District 14 "Speak-Out" contest who will compete at the state convention, and Mrs. Carolyn Loester, the Granite City Young Careerist candidate who appeared at the district conference.

Fire destroys rail cars

Mitchell and Long Lake firemen fought wind-blown flames in three refrigerated railroad boxcars for about three and one-half hours Friday afternoon, but were unable to keep the cars from being destroyed. Damage was estimated at $15,500.

The Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department first was called at 1:15 p.m. Friday to a brush fire which had spread to cars in the Merchants Dispatch Transportation rail tracks north of the fire. Mrs. Nettie Griffin of Muskegon, Mich., and a nephew, Robert Singleton of Venice.

Funeral services will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Friendship Baptist Church from an East St. Louis funeral home, where visitation will take place after 1 p.m. Thursday.

Firemen had to climb on top of the burning boxcars to open the top hatches and pour water in from the top.

The thick insulation in the refrigerated boxcars allowed the fire to burn in the walls and made it difficult to extinguish the flames. Long Lake firemen sent one pumper to assist the firefighting efforts.

The boxcars were owned by the Penn Central Gulf Railroad, freighters were told.

Rep. Steele Recovery processes may replace landfills scholarship panel named

State Representative Everett G. Steele said today he has again appointed a Citizens' Scholarship Committee to screen student applicants for the several scholarships to Illinois universities available through his legislative office. Serving as chairman of the committee will be Mrs. Robert Brave of Nameoki Township, past president of the Madison County Homemakers Extension Association.

Other committee members are Mrs. Ruth Huxel of Granite City, a retired personnel supervisor; C. B. Ripley, an Alton civic leader; Norman Fiegenbaum of Edwardsville, an industrial supervisor; and Mrs. Mary K. Webb of Godfrey, a counselor in the Alton school system.

Applicants will be considered by the committee on the basis of scholastic ability and school activities, and on the basis of need. "It is our intention," Rep. Steele said, "to award the scholarships available on an impartial basis to the most deserving students who apply."

Legislative scholarships include free tuition and partial fees to a state university of the applicant's choice. Four one-year scholarships to the University of Illinois will be awarded, and four one-year scholarships to other state universities will be available. Students interested in a legislative scholarship beginning in September 1976 should write to Rep. Everett G. Steele, 1318a Niedringhaus Ave., Granite City, Ill. 62040 for the necessary forms. Applications should be received by April 15, and those selected will be announced during the latter part of May 1976.

Rep. Steele added that where a severe financial need or hardship exists, students may wish to apply to the Illinois State Scholarship Commission, Deerfield, Ill., where financial assistance primarily on the basis of need can be secured.

Dr. Richard H. Bricefield, director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, last week, cautioned designers and managers of waste disposal projects not to "flippantly disregard the problem of social and esthetic concerns" as related to the disposition of waste materials on land.

"Everyone is for recycling waste but no one wants it done close to his property," he told the Soil Conservation Society of America at a symposium on land application of waste materials.

"This is a most intriguing subject and one which cannot be addressed adequately by technical facts alone," he said. "It involves issues far beyond what is right and wrong from a traditional pollution control standpoint."

"Social and esthetic issues cannot be disregarded; this aspect must be an integral part of the considerations which are taken into account in the site selection, design and management of a waste disposal or waste utilization project."

"If it is not taken into consideration, it will most certainly come back to haunt the project and can be just as real a reason for the project to fail as if it were incorrectly designed from a technical standpoint."

Dr. Bricefield also made predictions of the future insofar as "land pollution" is concerned.

He said that because the nature of large-scale disposal projects requires three to five years from conception to completion, significant developments in waste management techniques can be predicted with accuracy in that relatively short period, but other forces which may have a bearing on developments are more difficult to anticipate.

He labeled these developments as regulations and legislation which are more difficult to forecast, and also massive funding programs that may accelerate programs and subsidies, causing projects to be implemented that are uneconomical.

"General refuse will continue to be disposed of in sanitary landfills for the most part in the next five years, but by the end of 1981 some new projects will likely be in place, indicating a trend toward recovery techniques in the five-to-20-year period."

"At this time, those projects will most probably be in Springfield, the area around East St. Louis, Rockford, the city of Chicago and possibly other metropolitan centers."

Landfill surcharge proposed by state

The director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency proposed Tuesday that a surcharge be levied against sanitary landfill operations to pay the cost of cleaning up hazardous materials in abandoned landfills.

Dr. Richard H. Briceland made the suggestion to a national symposium on the land application of waste materials. The conference, sponsored by the Soil Conservation Society of America, is meeting at Des Moines, Iowa.

The Illinois EPA plans to evaluate the unique concept of an environmental surcharge for possible application in Illinois, Dr. Briceland said.

"Many old and unregulated dumping sites contain hazardous materials and have a great potential for environmental damage. We refer to these as environmental timebombs, many of which we suspect exist in Illinois."

The Illinois EPA presently has authority to monitor landfills for three years after they cease operation, to ensure that they will not cause pollution. Hazardous materials are known to cause pollution after that period, however, and the EPA director suggested the surcharge as a means of paying the cost of monitoring closed sites for many years, if they contain hazardous materials.

Meat grades explained

By DR. ROWENA LUTZ
Consumer Information Director
Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville

I have mentioned that persons buying food should become familiar with the various stamps on food.

Sometimes we get confused by the many stamps and symbols. We recognize them but do not always know what they mean.

However, if we want to be sure of getting what we pay for, let's learn to understand the symbols.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture inspection stamp is in the form of a circle which appears on the meat itself, on metal tags or on containers. This stamp signifies the wholesomeness of the product and is required by law for all meat sold in interstate commerce.

It indicates to a consumer that a federal inspector personally inspected the carcass and determined that it came from a healthy animal and was processed under sanitary conditions.

The Department of Agriculture grade stamp is in the form of a shield. This stamp is also found on the meat itself or various containers.

It is the mark of quality and is not required by law. The grade stamp is the option of the meat processor who is required to pay for this service.

If you find meat without this stamp, remember that the product is not necessarily inferior quality. Brand names can offer assurance of a product in line of the grade stamp.

While the USDA grading can give a general indication of quality, it does not give specific information about the cut of meat you buy.

Chicken and poultry are federally graded A through C, with A being the best quality. Most graded poultry carries the A grade in the marketplace.

However, a lesser grade is as wholesome—although not as attractive—and is less expensive.

When shopping for meat you might wish to:

• Look for the government inspection stamp (the circle).
• Look at the meat for identification of quality. Select firm, fine-grained, moist, light red to dark red color for beef; light pink for pork with a moderate layer of fat around the edges and marbling throughout.
• Bones should be pink and light red and slightly porous. Veal should have little amount of fat covering.
• Consider cost-per-serving rather than cost per pound. The number of servings per pound depends on the amount of meat to the bone and fat.
• Use quality grades such as supermarket brand or a packer's brand as guide.
• Shop carefully for processed meats such as ham, bacon, sausage and luncheon meats. These vary greatly depending on the ingredients and method of processing. Packer brands and store brands are a grade of quality for these products.

Says alcohol top problem

The number one problem in the country is alcoholism, according to Thomas Simmons of the Alcoholism and Drug Dependency Council.

Simmons showed a film "Boozers and Users" at last week's meeting of the Madison-Venue Rotary club held in the Madison Recreation Center.

The film dealt with why people drink, problems it leads to and ways of receiving help.

It was announced by Rotary President Ray Edwards that a District 444 conference in Springfield during the weekend would be attended by Robert Vickers, Richard Kisser, Duane Georgeff, Jack Lee, Lonnie McCoy, John Blasingame, Ned Freeman and Edwards.

During the conference the M-V Rotary club was to present a training session on "Motivation" under the leadership of Vickers.

Rotarian Leo Schermer reminded members of the club that they need to make a real effort to sign up blood donors for today between 2:30 p.m. and 7:15 p.m. Schermer said reservations should be made by contacting Albert Hudzik at 876-6268.

On a motion by Blasingame, the club voted to participate in the Maundy Thursday noon luncheon on April 15 to be held at the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue.

Raises for nonunion school secretaries ok'd by board

For fast action in selling your home contact Royce Realty and "sell it now," 2862 Madison Ave., 876-5050

Salaries for nonunion secretarial positions, crossing guards and teacher aides were increased in comparison with the raises granted to the Building Service Employees Union Local 98, representing secretaries and cafeteria workers, by the Granite City Board of Education at a meeting last week.

Increases for the seven secretaries were granted according to the job classification, figured within a yearly range of $614 to $986. The raises are retroactive to July 1, 1975.

Salary increases also retroactive to July 1, 1975, and for the 1976-77 year, for the crossings guards were raised from $7.50 per day to $7.75 and teacher aides were raised from $2.50 per hour to $3 per hour.

Board members appointed Harold Hillmer, Mrs. Martha Rochester and George Moore, the latter president of the board, to serve with Local 98 members Irene Karlechik, Dorothy Hamilton and Mildred Chandler, as a committee to study and review secretarial classifications as compared with those of the Service Employees Union Local 98 agreement, and to make recommendations to the Board of Education.

In other action, the board set April 27 as the date for a hearing on a suspended tenured teacher, in compliance with the rules adopted by the State Board of Education.

A check in the amount of $3,031 for the purchase of two basketball score boards for Granite City Memorial Gymnasium, was presented to President George Moore and the board of education, by Ernest Karandjeff, president-trust officer of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, on behalf of the bank, during the meeting.

Approval was given to employ Henry Gabriel as consulting architect for the construction of an automotive shop at North High School, at a cost not to exceed $6,300.

The purchase and installation of protective fencing of the varsity football field at South High School at a cost of $476 was granted by the board.

A list of election judges and standby judges for the April 10 school board election was approved by the board.

In conjunction with the declining enrollment, a plan for the Citizen Advisory Council to conduct a pre-school survey to determine the exact number of pre-school children who reside in the school district, was presented by Frank Kraus, assistant superintendent.

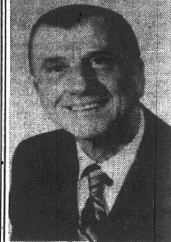

A pilot survey will start on April 26 at Mitchell and Nameoki Schools with the entire district survey to be completed by May 28, he said.

Survey cards will be given to all students in an elementary school, to be completed by the families and returned to the school. Each card will be grouped by streets and given

State Bicentennial program —sound, light, Lee J. Cobb

Narration of the sound and light program to premiere at the Old State Capitol in Springfield July 4 was the last professional performance of veteran actor Lee J. Cobb, according to Charles Guggenheim, producer of the show.

Cobb, who died of an apparent heart attack Feb. 11 at the age of 64, had completed the taped narration just a week before his death, Guggenheim said.

In a career that spanned more than 40 years, Cobb acted on Broadway, in more than 80 movies, and on television.

His 1949 portrayal of the embittered Willie Loman in the original Broadway production of Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" won Cobb critical acclaim. His television credits included four years as Judge Garth in the series, "The Virginian."

"Consistent with his career," Guggenheim said, "Cobb brought intelligence and commitment to the sound and light script. It is an outstanding job in every respect."

The sound and light show at the Old State Capitol is the official contribution of the State of Illinois to the Bicentennial. An appropriation of $600,000 by the General Assembly of the Illinois Bicentennial Commission is paying for the creation and installation of the program.

The sophisticated electronic presentation uses music, sound effects, voices of actors, and lights continually changing in focus, color and intensity to recreate the story of Abraham Lincoln's relationship with the historic Old Capitol. Following the July 4 premiere, the show is expected to be presented each evening after sunset during the remaining summer months of the Bicentennial year and many years thereafter.

Guggenheim, who heads Guggenheim Productions of Washington, D.C., is himself an award-winning producer. His documentary film, "Robert Kennedy Remembered," won both an Academy Award and an Emmy.

Guggenheim created and installed the interior sound and light program at Ford's Theatre in Washington.

"Looking back," Guggenheim reflected, "I think Cobb would have felt good that the last thing he did as an actor had to do with Lincoln—and the celebration of the Constitution and Declaration of Independence."

North Follies 8 p.m. Thursday

It will be fun night Thursday beginning at 8 p.m. in the Granite City High School South auditorium as the GCHS North speech department presents its "Spring Follies."

THREE NEW MEMBERS are inducted into the 20-Year Club at First Granite City National Bank. Howard Etherton, Elmina Trachsel and Francis Bishop receive awards denoting 20 years of employment at the bank from Bank Chairman Paul Lichtenberger, front center. Other bank members of 20 or more years attended the ceremony. From left: Etherton, vice-president; Charles Gavin, senior vice-president; Elmina Trachsel; Francis Bishop; Merle Rose, assistant cashier (partially hidden);

Angela Converse; Lichtenberger; Earl Dotzauer, vice-president and auditor; Bernice Mottin; I. J. Pittman, vice-president and cashier; Mae Butler, and Harold Fischer, vice-chairman. The group represents a combined total of 299 years of service to the local bank. Lichtenberger commented that "The dedicated efforts of our many loyal employees, past and present, have been the prime ingredient contributing to the growth and success of First Bank. After all, people serving people is what banking is all about."

Aged face money, health, transportation problems

There is a pressing need for research and program development in the area of gerontology, according to Robert Hawkins, professor of speech and communications at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Gerontology is the study of the process of aging.

According to Hawkins, Illinois is one of five states in the United States expected to have more than a million persons aged 65 and over before the turn of the century. The increase in longevity is largely attributed to advances in medical science in general and geriatric medicine in particular.

Hawkins feels that society must address itself to the various problems faced by the elderly—especially housing, nutrition, income, physical and mental health, transportation, employment and retirement, schooling, leisure time, and intergenerational communication.

"There is a great unmet need within traditional disciplines and professional areas for research and training in gerontology," Hawkins said. He cited as examples nurses, psychologists, social workers, educators and human service specialists in Southwest Illinois who are finding it more and more necessary to develop special expertise in the field of gerontology.

Resources are not available in this part of the state to meet this need, Hawkins said, either through an academic concentration or special training programs.

Without such available resources, students and professionals and paraprofessionals will not have an opportunity to expand their skills in gerontology unless they moved out of the area, he believes.

Hawkins has received an award from the SIUE Faculty Development Program for his proposal for development of academic expertise in gerontology.

Main thrust of the research proposal would be toward an in-depth study of gerontology and preparation of proposals for special courses-workshops-seminars to be considered for development into a program on gerontology by the university.

The program would provide interdisciplinary career-orientation training for undergraduates, graduates, paraprofessionals and professionals who plan to work with or who are already employed in positions working with the elderly, but need specific education and training experiences in gerontology.

A course in speech communication focusing on intergenerational communication will be offered at SIUE during the spring quarter. The course,

"SPC: Seminar in Rhetorical Problems," will be geared to opening channels of communication between aged parents and their adult children, Hawkins said. Major topics covered will be: facts and myths about the physiological and psychological aspects of aging; the impact of physiological and psychological age-group differences on intergenerational communication; and problems encountered in allowing some of the myths to influence the ways people communicate.

Williams heads savings league

Members of the Madison-Jersey County Savings Association elected new officers for the 1976-77 year at their monthly meeting. Fred Williams, of the First Granite City Savings and Loan Association, was elected chairman; Malcolm Kindig, of Home Savings and Loan Association in Alton, was elected vice-chairman, and Thomas Stromke, from Germania Federal in Alton, was re-elected secretary.

Representatives of savings and loan associations in each of the cities served by the league meet once each month to discuss situations of a mutual interest and new, or changes in, regulations governing the savings and loan business.

School closings are scheduled

Students in Granite City elementary schools will be dismissed all day Wednesday, March 24, for parent-teacher conferences.

Classes in all the elementary, junior and high schools in Granite City, Madison and Maryville will be dismissed on Wednesday, March 24, for county institute day.

Parochial schools, St. Elizabeth in Granite City and St. Mary's in Madison and Venice, also will have a free day Friday, when the teachers attend the county meeting.

BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW
Brought To You By Milton Mothwos

One of the most amazing teams in sports history was the Nevada, Wyoming High School basketball team a few years ago. . . . No players had ever won their bench during the playing of any game that season because they had only five boys on the whole squad with no substitutes. . . . And despite going the whole year without any substitutes, they still won their way into the Wyoming state high school championship tournament.

Here's an oddity about NBA basketball player Bailey Howell. . . . He made 1,621 points in the NBA in the 1966-67 season, and then, unbelievably, he made exactly 1,621 points again in the NBA in the 1967-68 season. . . . What are the odds on that happening?

Here's an oddity from auto racing. . . . Everybody thinks that having the pole position in an auto race is an advantage — but oddly enough, in all the years that the Indianapolis 500-mile race has been run, drivers who had the pole position have won only eight times, or less than 15 per cent of the time!

Golf Cougars head South

The Cougar golf team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will open its spring season tomorrow at the University of Miami invitational tournament in Miami, Fla.

Coach Harry Gallatin will be taking the squad south for its eighth straight year since the golf program was started at SIUE in 1968. In its first season, Bill Brick coached the golf team, but Gallatin worked closely with him during that year.

Gallatin took over the duties in the team's second year when Brick quit to seek his Ph.D. The team has compiled a 138-142 overall record in dual match competition since the beginning of the program.

The Cougars will be led in their spring campaign by John Hand, a senior transfer student from Eastern Illinois University in Charleston, Ill., who transferred to SIUE when the golf program at Eastern was dropped.

Wasting no time at all, Hand took over the lead from SIUE golfers, posting a 74.2 average during the fall season. Gallatin is expecting him to have a good season this year and to help the Cougars' chances of contending for the NCAA Division II tournament. SIUE finished tenth in last year's tournament.

Doug Macella, who had SIUE's second best average in the fall season at 74.7, will be competing in his last year at SIUE. The senior from Brownsville, Tex., holds the school record for lowest scores in a four-round post-season tournament at 367. His fall-season average of 74.7 marks a three-stroke improvement over his spring 1975 season.

The third best average for the Cougar squad during the fall season is held by Brooks Brestal. The junior from Belleville is considered the team's steady player and this year will lead the Cougars as the team captain. Brestal is expecting him to have a good season this year and to help the Cougars' chances of contending for the NCAA Division II tournament. SIUE finished tenth in last year's tournament.

The remainder of the Cougar golf team consists of three freshmen, Tim Gehrig, Don Gresco and Keith Williams; two sophomores, Mark Keeley and Joe Riley; two juniors, Kevin McConnell and Gary Shastal; and senior Keith Swindell. Gresco is a Granite City native.

The Cougars should be con-

Softball practice by SIUE women

With the spirit and excitement of a winning 19-4 basketball season still in the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville women's Cougars have started practicing for the 1976 softball season.

Although women's sports at SIUE is still in the developmental stage, Softball Coach Cindy Jones said she has high hopes for the squad this year.

Currently, 15 are practicing indoors, five days a week, at the Alton women's gym.

During practices, the team concentrates on such skills as throwing, catching, fielding, bunting and defensive bunting. Coach Jones said that when outdoors practice gets under way, the players will concentrate their energies on hitting.

The nine players constituting the starting lineup won't be selected until about March 30.

The women Cougars will begin the season Saturday, April 3, in a game against University of Missouri-St. Louis at 1 p.m. at SIUE.

Soccer offered to young boys

The local YMCA is seeking seven or eight boys to help form a new team in the soccer program.

Harold Rudolph, executive director of the YMCA, said boys aged six or seven, born in 1969 or 1970, are requested to call him at 876-7200 if they would like to join.

Promising young athletes boost Steeler track hopes

GCHS North's field meet here with Alton last week confirmed Coach Harry Lang's concern that the Steelers may encounter difficulties this season in those events. The school's outdoor dual meet schedule starts at 4 p.m. today at O'Fallon.

With the exception of Senior Dale Page, who vaulted 13 feet last week to take first place North's scoring punch is hampered by limited participation from Seniors Rick Demaree and Steve Davis. Both are recovering from knee operations resulting from fall sports injuries.

Demaree, a high jump state qualifier last season, and Davis are slated for both high and long jump competition this year.

"Both athletes should be ready soon," says Lang, "but we don't want to push them too early."

Demaree and Davis are two of the team's seven returning seniors. The other five are Dave Puteh, distance runner, Page, David Kwiatkowski, hurdles, Steve Crab, sprinter, and Robin Tegel, distance runner.

"Combined with the talents of Sophomore Mike Barker," says Lang, "we should be a consistent victim in one-mile and two-mile events."

Barker, Puteh and Tegel were state distance qualifiers on last season's cross-country team. Barker, in an indoor meet at Eastern Illinois University this month, won a two-mile race with a 9:32 time, and placed fifth there in the mile run in 4:30.

The coach said Crab looks like he will be the 100 and 200-yard dashes, and is versatile enough to run any position in the short relay competition.

Lang also believes that Kwiatkowski's performance in 400 and 70-yard hurdles events will give the Steelers points where the team has been weak in the past two seasons.

Adding endurance and speed to the team's efforts in half-mile and mile events will be Sophomores Greg Stout and John Buchanan and Juniors Dave Elbrecht and Don Lucy, all members of last fall's cross-country squad.

"We have athletes who show promise of being point-earners in different areas," the coach said.

Seniors Fred Clay, Bruce Jaffet and Dave Peters have shown ability in the hurdles and relays, and Clay covered 40 feet, three inches, at Eastern in the triple jump.

"Clay has strong legs and could develop into one of the better jumpers in the area," says Lang. "Jaffet looks strong in the 30-yard hurdles."

Lang remarked that aided by the efforts of Grigsby Junior High Coaches Mike Harmon and David Ames, the Steelers have good depth with a promising field of freshmen.

Defense could be key to GC South '76 baseball success

"Defense is going to be an important element in how many games we win this season," says GCHS South baseball coach Conrad "Babe" Champion as the Warriors prepared to take to the diamond for their new season.

The Warriors will play at Roxana today to open the 1976 campaign.

Champion based his speculation on the versatility of some of the athletes capable of filling several positions.

The Warrior infield is headed by Senior Ed Prazma, one of the squad's two captains and a returning letterman. Joining him are senior letterman Jeff Scarborough and junior letterman Mike Clark and Randy Smith.

Four other infielders were players last year with South's sophomore squad that posted at 14-2 season record — Jim Cedar, Steve Sedabers, Eldon Wardell and Kenny Wiesbach.

Those designated for infield duties may also be required to work the outfield on occasion, says Champion, as the players may need to be backed up by those position of experience in those positions. Outfielders include Sophomores Bob DeCoursey, Al Wooten and Al Collins and Junior Joe Parente.

Senior letterman Keith Champion leads the list of catchers, who also include Junior Danny Stanton and Senior Keith Moran.

Assistant Coach John Modica, handling the pitching staff exclusively, says the Warriors' seven hurlers should show considerable improvement with a few games under their belts.

He adds that South's pitchers, all right-handed, are good with the bat and could be used as pinch hitters.

Senior Randy Lyster, a captain and letterman, will be joined on the mound by Rick Farnham, a senior letterman, Senior Tony Stajdhar and four of last year's sophomore squad members. Outfielders include Senior Paul Evans, Jeff Bladick, John Lakin and Mike Novack.

Evans posted a 6-0 record on the mound last year.

Evans and Lakin also have proven themselves capable first basemen.

"We have a good turnout at the lower grade levels," says Champion. "About 35 freshmen and sophomores should bolster the baseball program."

Morgan Park takes AA basketball title

A turnaround 26-foot jump shot at the buzzer gave Chicago Morgan Park its first state basketball championship over Saturday night as the Mustangs topped Aurora West 45-44 in the Class AA title clash at the University of Illinois, Champaign.

Morgan Park's Larry Smith's game-winning shot came off a tipped ball seconds after he had missed two free throws, either of which would have tied the contest at 44-44.

The Mustangs opened their state tournament "elite eight" campaign Friday with a 53-46 win over Galesburg, and then squeaked past Oak Park 59-58 in a semifinal contest Saturday afternoon.

Aurora West opened the tourney with an 82-57 win over Thornridge and defeated Decatur Eisenhower 63-51 Saturday to advance.

Other contests played Friday saw Decatur Eisenhower win 81-46 over Marion and Oak Park pulled 56-53 in overtime over Loyola.

Oak Park took third place in the tourney Saturday with a 73-61 win over Eisenhower.

Constance Antoff weds George A. Schwendemann

MARCH BRIDE. Mrs. George A. Schwendemann, the former Miss Constance M. Antoff, who was married Friday evening at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Antoff, 2506 E. 28th St.

Arrangements of pink, yellow, green and blue tinted carnations adorned the altar of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church for the wedding on Friday evening of Miss Constance M. Antoff, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Antoff, 2506 East 28th St., and George A. Schwendemann, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Schwendemann, 3008 Forest Ave. Father James L. Neuman officiated at the 7 o'clock nuptial mass.

Organist Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw accompanied the soloist, Cathy Cassey. Wedding selections included "We've Only Just Begun," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Time for Us," "Wedding Song," "Ave Maria" and "Follow Me."

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long gown of silk organza and lace designed with an Empire waistline.

The molded bodice was fashioned with a high lace collar, sheer tucked yoke and long sleeves, accented with a band of lace from the shoulder to the lace cuffs.

Her organza and lace skirt was encircled at the hemline with a ruffled flourish, which extended into a long train.

She wore a pillbox headpiece to secure a lace-bordered cathedral veil of bridal illusion and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses centered with multi-colored carnations.

Honor attendant Miss Christine Antoff, a sister of the bride, chose a A-line gown of pink polyester, featuring maroon velvet trim on the collar and cuffs.

Her bouquet was made up of pink roses and pink tinted carnations.

Bridesmaids Mrs. Wayne Unger, cousin of the bride, selected an identical dress in powder blue with royal blue trim and Miss Laura Antoff, the bride's sister, appeared in lime green with emerald green accents.

They held bouquets of carnations and daisies in colors to match their gowns.

The flower girls, Shannon Murray, a niece of the groom, and Jennifer Unger, the bride's cousin, wore pastel yellow frocks with gold velvet trim. Each held a nosegay of yellow carnations and roses.

The groom chose Bruce Reese, his brother-in-law, as best man. Wayne Unger, the bride's cousin, and Robert Krause, a brother-in-law of the groom, were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Thomas and Kenneth Antoff, brothers of the bride.

Guests were received by the newlyweds at a reception held in the church school cafeteria following the service.

Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Schwendemann, hosted a dinner for the wedding party after the church rehearsal.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Antoff was attired in a mint green formal gown and the groom's mother, Mrs. Schwendemann, selected a long yellow dress.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School South. The former Miss Antoff is employed as a stenographer at the U.S. Department of Justice, St. Louis. The groom works as a metal caster at Granite City Steel.

They will reside in Granite City after a wedding trip to Orlando, Fla.

Philathea Class votes donations

Mrs. Josephine Ramsay presided over the March meeting of the Philathea Class at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. Those in attendance were 10 members and a guest, Mrs. Lillian J. Fox of Battle Creek, Mich.

Mrs. Pearl Campbell read selections of scripture and poetry containing thoughts which can help one to remember each day as "the day that the Lord hath made." Some suggestions were: Keep a song in your heart; see the beauty in each day; seek a quiet place; don't be apathetic to the needs of others; and let faith, love, peace and God play a part in each day's activities.

The class decided to contribute to the special Easter offering of the church and the Guatemala Disaster Fund. Subscriptions to the Baraca Philathea News and the Pathfinder will be ordered.

Nelle Hart, Michael Stewart and Katherine Van Order told the class about their Caribbean cruise and showed articles from the islands and Central America.

Revised ice rink schedule

The Granite City Park District has announced that the Wilson Park ice rink will be open this Wednesday, from 9:30 a.m. to noon for a free adult skating session, due to regular evening sessions being omitted because of the Granite City Amateur Ice Hockey Association tournament tomorrow through Friday.

Regular skating sessions will resume Saturday for the general public from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., and from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

On Sunday, the rink will open to the public 1:30 p.m. and again 6:30 p.m.

From 8:30 to 11 p.m. Sunday has been set aside for adult skaters only.

Ice tourneys continue

A second phase of Granite City Amateur Hockey Association ice hockey tournament play at Wilson Park will open tomorrow with four B Division teams competing.

The first portion started Saturday with A Division teams and concluded yesterday.

Divisions conducting tournaments this week are the Squirts (ages 8-9), Bantams (ages 10-11), Pee Wees (ages 12-13) and Midgets (ages 14-16).

Squirt division teams start this week's action with two contests tomorrow — Granite City Sheet Metal and Kirkwood, Mo., at 5:30 p.m. and St. Louis Delta and Springfield, Ill., at 6:45 p.m. Losers will play a consolation game at 8:30 p.m.

Thursday and victors will play for the championship at 5:30 p.m. Friday.

Also tomorrow, Bantam competition starts at 8 p.m. with the Springfield Saints playing St. Louis Steinberg, followed at 9:15 p.m. tomorrow with Moore Construction playing Creve Coeur, Mo.

The consolation game will be at 8 p.m. Thursday and the championship contest at 6:45 p.m. on Friday.

On Wednesday, Grove Plumbing and Clayton, Mo., open a Pee Wee tourney at 5:30 p.m., followed by a 6:45 contest between Springfield, Ill., and Webster Groves, Mo. A consolation game is set for 6:45 p.m. Thursday, and the championship contest at 6:45 p.m. on Friday.

Plumbing Supplies of the Midget Division will play Springfield at 8 p.m. and Meramec, Mo., and St. Charles, Mo., at 9:15 p.m. Wednesday. The consolation contest is on tap for 9:15 p.m. Thursday, and that division's title contest is slated for 8:15 p.m. on Friday.

Trophies, plaques and patches will be awarded to the winners in each of the four divisions.

Home contests for baseball Steelers

At Dupu at 4 p.m. today to open their 1976 baseball season, the GCHS North Steelers will then host Breese Mater Dei at 4 p.m. tomorrow and also will entertain Roxana at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

"Although we're young," Coach Robert Stegmeyer says, "we have dedicated players whom we think can get the job done."

The assistant coach is Harry Parker. Coach Ron Yates heads the sophomore team and Coach Robert Kehoe the freshman players.

North's varsity success will depend on the performances of seven seniors and 11 juniors.

The seniors are Mike Davis, Dave Goodyear, Tim Leubmann, Gary Meyer, Larry Schleicher, Richard Schmidt and Terry Schofield.

Davis and Goodyear are slated for outfield duty, Leubmann the infield, Meyer as catcher, Schleicher as pitcher and Schmidt second base and Schofield, infield.

Schleicher, who has lettered in football and basketball, is applying his skills in baseball for the first time.

Steelers' workhorses" apparently will be the 11 juniors, three of whom served as pitchers on last year's sophomore team—Greg Corey, Mike Germann and Chris Page.

Slated for hurling duties also are Jerry Barnett, Steven Morris and Gary Paul.

Other members of the squad, all juniors, are William Brown, Gordon Fallon, Kevin Hayes, Matt McCullough, and James Simpson.

"No playing position is definitely filled," says Stegmeyer. "We'll observe the players a few games and possibly make necessary changes."

Stegmeyer has been head coach of the baseball Steelers since the school's inception in the fall of 1975. The first year of competition for North ended with an 8-14 record, and then the team had 17 wins against six losses last year, which brought the district title.

Schleicher, who has lettered in football and basketball, is applying his skills in baseball for the first time.

Steelers' workhorses" apparently will be the 11 juniors, three of whom served as pitchers on last year's sophomore team—Greg Corey, Mike Germann and Chris Page.

Slated for hurling duties also are Jerry Barnett, Steven Morris and Gary Paul.

Other members of the squad, all juniors, are William Brown, Gordon Fallon, Kevin Hayes, Matt McCullough, and James Simpson.

"No playing position is definitely filled," says Stegmeyer. "We'll observe the players a few games and possibly make necessary changes."

Track Trojans win opener from Dupu

Madison High School opened its 1976 outdoor track season Friday with an 82½-62½ win over visiting Dupu.

The Trojans next travel to Triad (St. Jacob-Troy-Marine) for a meet at 4 p.m. Wednesday that has just been added to the schedule.

"Although we scored points in field events," says Coach Charles Steptoe, "we earned 60 points to Dupu's 31½ in track competition."

Madison was paced on the track by Seniors Von Dee Walker and Mike Terrell, who posted double-event wins.

Walker won the 100-yard dash with a 10.6-second sprint, and then leaped five feet, 10 inches to win the high jump. Terrell bounded over the 120-yard high hurdles in 16.5 seconds to win, and also posted a 43.1-second time in winning the 330 low hurdles.

Walker anchored the 440 and 880-yard relay squads. The team of Marcus White, Curtis Bradley, Dwight Chiller and Walker won the 440 in 46.3 seconds, and the team of James Heard, Chiller, White and Walker won in 1:39.8.

Terrell served as anchor on the mile relay squad with Ernest Davenport, Carl Camp and Charles Dull. They won in 4:10.9.

Madison's two-mile relay squad took first place with a time of 10:20.1. Runners were Gerry Brooks, Dull, Norman Miller and Robert Bookner.

Capturing events also were Davenport the half-mile run in 2:11.5, Sylvester Collins the 440 dash in 59.7 seconds and Jeff Thompson the discus with 106 feet, 8 inches.

Wind gusts plague 'little red wagon'

Strong gusty winds nearly blew the wheel-standing Little Red Wagon truck of Bill "Maverick" Golden off the dragstrip surface during an exhibition run at Sunday's St. Louis International Raceway program south of Madison.

In the first of three wheel-standing runs, the 3,100-pound Dodge truck was on its rear wheels at only about 60 miles per hour when a gust of wind caught it from the right, sending the truck quickly toward the left side of the track.

Golden brought the front wheels down and steered back to the center of the track before the vehicle went completely out of control.

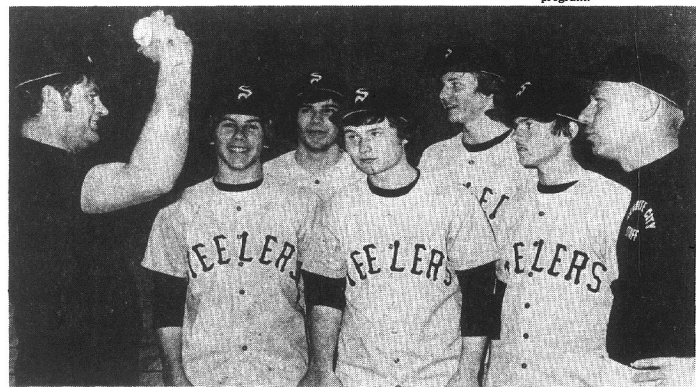

In subsequent runs, he said he compensated for the wind by placing 1,200 pounds of hydraulic pressure against the right rear wheel brake and made two more full quarter-mile passes on only the rear wheels.

Dennis Schneider of New Athens, Ill., was the top eliminator winner, defeating Rich Robinson of Overland, Mo., both driving Corvettes.

Nick Vandeland of Decatur in a Gremlin and Ken Gaugh of St. Louis in a new Chevrolet met for the top money in street eliminator; Vandeland winning when Gaugh was disqualified for running faster than his handicap allowed.

Leonard Bogucki, St. Louis, in a Chevelle, defeated Bill Endrizz of Overland for the selectra eliminator prize money, and Mrs. Clyde Waldo of Bridgeton, Mo., won the king of the hill elimination trophy, toting Maurice Everett of East St. Louis.

About 300 racers competed in Sunday's regular racing program.

Walter Whitaker; Charles Taylor, outstanding senior; and Kris Whelan, most valuable and most pins awards.

North mat record sparkling — but future may be better

The best may be yet to come. But the past and present already have been spectacular for the Granite City High School North wrestling team, which attracted a dinner gathering of several hundred to honor members of the 1975-76 squad.

Top award recipients were Kris Whelan, most pins, 15; Charles Taylor, outstanding senior; and most valuable wrestlers, the Whelan brothers, Keith and Kris.

Varsity letter winners also included Mitch Steen, Ralph Barker, Ray Stuart, Steve Hartline, Doug Rains and Len Butler. Along with Kris Whelan, all are sophomores except Steen, a freshman.

Letter recipients also consisted of John Sands, Mark Widel, Jim Shemwell, Curt Davis and Matt McCullough, plus Keith Whelan, juniors; and seniors Taylor and Dennis Cuvar, Jim Bledsoe and Dave Futch.

Taylor, Cuvar and Keith Whelan served as captains of the squad, which had a 17-4 win-loss record.

All levels of competition saw the Stealers with a successful record — freshmen 9-2, sophomores 5-3 and junior varsity, 7-3.

As indicated by the number of youth athletes in varsity competition, many players wrestled a division or two divisions ahead of the customary. While Steen was the only freshman to earn a varsity letter, others competed in jayvee and sophomore bouts.

The approach was partly dictated by the youth of the school and its team, but also is believed to aid future teams by giving returning athletes experience against the toughest possible opposition.

While Coach Walter Whitaker is making no extreme predictions, there is a widespread feeling that North wrestlers may be among the more dominant in this region and statewide in 1976-77.

Individual performances announced included: Kris Whelan, 35-177 points, Quincy, district and sectional champion, fourth in state.

Keith Whelan, 182 points, a new record, breaking the previous mark that he set by 52 points; 27-2 win-loss record, holiday, Quincy and district champion, second in sectional, fifth in state.

Charles Taylor, 23-11-1, event.

Karen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Reisinger, 2332 Delmar Ave., started swimming at the local YMCA. Recently, she has been swimming on the Bi-County "Y" swim team.

In the 1976 national competition, she was swimming for the Southern Methodist University girls' team.

Her time of 2:06.5 placed her a half-second from second place, as a tightly-bunched group of five winners finished behind Karen Moe, former world record holder in the holiday journey champion.

Mark Widel, 25-10-1, second in district. Matt McCullough, 14-3-1, Quincy and district champion. John Shands, third in district.

Dave Futch, 17-10, Dennis Cuvar, 18-14, Jim Bledsoe, 16-12, Jim Shemwell, 17-12, and Steve Hartline, 4-4.

Kirkpatrick youngsters in basketball program

Through the efforts of David Morgan and the Granite City Housing Authority, 54 youngsters living in Kirkpatrick Homes are now participating in a new type of sports program.

The Tri-City Area YMCA is conducting Youth Basketball Association basketball — a new program developed by members of the National Basketball Association and the YMCA for boys and girls aged eight to 12.

"YBA basketball is an entirely new concept in youth basketball and has been in the developmental stage for more than two years. Players wear team uniforms, have a National YBA registration card and receive complete coaching on basketball skills at all levels of competition," E. A. Karandjeff, president of the "Y" board of directors, reports.

YBA basketball is more than just a game. All training materials for players, parents and coaches stress values development, with an effort to improve the quality of human life.

While the program is being administered by community YMCAs in all 50 states, NBA players will participate in training workshops, clinics, films and other events reflecting the goals of the program, according to Paul Silas of the Boston Celtics, president of the players' group.

"We at the Tri-City Area YMCA are proud of joining with the Granite City Housing Authority and the Granite City School District in making this kind of game available to children in Kirkpatrick Homes."

"Since basketball was invented by the YMCA, it's only natural that the YMCA participate in its development, and we think the new program is the finest adaptation yet conceived. The values and human goals of the program, together with development of sports skills, will make the YBA a dynamic force," Harold Rudolph, executive director of the YMCA, commented.

Karen Reisinger impresses in national swimming meet

Karen Reisinger of Granite City is making a name for herself on the national swimming scene.

She finished sixth in the 200-yard butterfly in the national swimming championships of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women at the Swimming Hall of Fame in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Thursday night.

Her time of 2:06.5 placed her a half-second from second place, as a tightly-bunched group of five winners finished behind Karen Moe, former world record holder in the

Mendoza soccer team wins midget division tournament

Granite City's Mendoza Sporting Goods soccer team defeated St. Louis Congo 5-0 Saturday in St. Louis to win the first annual Midget Division Cup tournament sponsored by the St. Louis Youth Soccer Association.

Neither team scored during the first half and Mendoza's won on four goals from Mike Gavin of St. Louis and one from Randy DeRousse of Granite City.

DeRousse was credited with three assists. Goalies were Kelly Mann and Tony Pierce, both of Granite City.

Mendoza's reached the championship contest with a 8-7 overtime victory last week over the St. Louis Our Lady of Loretto team.

South High spring formal on April 3

Granite City High School South will hold its spring formal Saturday, April 3. This year it will be held at Stan Musial and Biggie's Restaurant in the St. Louis Hilton Inn, 10350 Natural Bridge Road.

The prom theme is "Just You 'N Me," a song by Chicago.

Pastel colors and elegant decor will enhance the Golden Ballroom, where the prom will be held.

The evening includes dinner and dancing from 7:30 p.m. until 12:30 a.m. The menu includes a steak dinner, salad, twice-baked potato, green beans, dessert and unlimited soda.

The music will be furnished by the brass band, "Progress."

Anita Landman and Jo DeRuntz are serving as co-chairmen for the prom. Other members of the committee include Connie Corzilis, Edna Helfrich, Paula Niebur, Sue officials, as it should have been. In many precincts, including Venice Pct. 8, the candidates contend many would be voters felt without voting when they saw long lines. Waiting periods of 45 minutes and more were reported to Miss Bowles, who sent extra voting machines to some areas.

"We could have used 600 machines in this election, but we did not have them. The problem in this election was not so much a lack of voting machines as it was a surplus of candidates," she explained.

"Polling judges told us Tuesday morning that some people were taking up to 15 minutes in the voting machines, probably making up their minds on all the delegate candidates."

"I ordered them to enforce the five-minute limit set by state law in order to speed up the voting. We just never have had a ballot as lengthy as this one," she noted.

She said if one more person had filed as a candidate for delegate to the Democratic National Convention, paper ballots would have been necessary. "We probably would still be counting the ballots," she said Friday afternoon.

Answering complaints that the machines made it difficult to write in candidates' names she said her office for the first time this year prepared and distributed thousands of pamphlets on how to write in votes.

She said the ballots and machines were prepared as provided by law and there was no identification of the ballot which has to be pressed before the write-in slides could be moved because the law does not specify such identification.

"We did our best to distribute the pamphlets everywhere which showed step-by-step how to write in," Miss Bowles said. She noted that in Granite City Pct. 29, where the late Walter Nomm was the only Democratic precinct committeeman candidate on the ballot, supporters of Mr. Nomm's widow, Margaret Nomm, obtained many of the write-in pamphlets and distributed them, seeking write-in votes for Mrs. Nomm.

Mrs. Nomm won in that precinct with 145 write-in votes to 23 write-ins for Mildred Adams. Only 18 votes were cast for Mr. Nomm, even though his was the only name for which a regular voting lever was provided.

She said the voting machines used in Madison County are all the same and, to her knowledge, all are in perfect working order. Each was checked before the election and all problems were corrected before they were sealed, she said.

Miss Bowles said she had been made aware on election day of only a few minor problems, all of which were immediately corrected.

In one precinct, the election judge accidentally reported an excess of 100 Republican votes and later said she had given the wrong figure. "This kind of problem will be resolved in the Ebersoldt of Venice said the city stands to lose approximately $30,000 in tax income, while the park district expects a loss of about $5,000, including $2,800 in the general fund and $2,200 in the recreational fund.

On the basis of last year's tax rates, other projected tax losses resulting from the assessment would include Venice Township, $4,500; the township road and bridge fund, $1,876; the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, $11,508; and the tax collected for the county, $14,336. The Madison School district and the city of Madison would not be affected by the cut.

The company request to cut its personal and real estate valuations resulted directly from the new state law providing that assessment officials of Illinois counties, during the next three years, must assess property at one-third of the full cash value of the property, Barton said.

Most assessments in urban townships of Madison County now are at or near 50 per cent of official canvass," she noted. The canvass of the vote began in the county clerk's office Wednesday and was expected to be completed late today or early tomorrow.

It is believed there will be several changes, particularly in Republican precinct committee races, where several candidates have contended that not all their write-in votes were counted on the unofficial vote tally.

the full cash value. County assessment officials have been concentrating on raising the assessment ratios of rural townships where farmland and other rural property already are assessed at far less than the 33-1/3 rate now required by the state law.

This has resulted in a flood of complaints and hundreds of requests for Board of Review hearings, running the assessment system well behind its normal schedule. Since tax extensions cannot be made until assessment books are completed, tax officials say tax collections this year may not begin until September, about three months later than usual.

The Union Electric Co., according to assessment records, filed returns last year listing $22,989,883 as the full cash value of personal property at Venice. The assessor made a local assessment on a 55 per cent ratio for a personal property valuation of $12,595,870.

In January 1975, the township assessor fixed a real estate valuation, on a 50 per cent ratio, at $12,580,540. The personal and real estate valuation therefore was set at a total of $25,185,510, at $12,580,540.

Full cash value of the property on the basis of these figures would amount to $15,774,067.

After the company filed its returns last year, however, a new appraisal was made by a Chicago firm which claimed full cash value of the property should be set at $37,020,920, a reduction of $10 million below the $47,982,883 figure declared by the company in its tax return.

Barton said the reassessment figure made by the Chicago firm was not considered by the Board of Review, but that the review board and Union Electric representatives agreed on the $2,800,000 reduction. This figure, Barton said, is to remain for four years, with the assessment set at $22,386,000 for personal and real estate property.

Venice Township taxing districts have been suffering consistent valuation cuts over the past ten years, resulting in reductions in tax revenue. The Union Electric Co. assessment represents nearly half of the township's total assessed valuation which was set at $52,243,730 for the 1974 year.

C. A. Thomason dies at age 48

Charles A. Thomason, 48, 1102 Kirkpatrick Homes, died at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the VIP Nursing Home, Wood River, where he had resided.

He was born in South Pittsburgh, Tenn. Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Minnie Thomason of Chicago; the brother, William Thomason and three sisters, Mrs. Utah (Georgia) Downs, Mrs. Robert (Lucy) Hoffman and Mrs. Peggy Miller, all of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Rev. Lancaster, 87, dies

The Rev. William F. Lancaster, 87, of 1885 Union Ave., died at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:30 p.m. Sunday.

Born in Eminence, Mo., the Rev. Lancaster resided in the Quad-Cities 25 years. He also worked 21 years at the Granite City Steel in the Galvanizing Department until he retired in 1948.

The Rev. Lancaster was a minister of the Pentecostal faith and was a member of Briardiff Pentecostal Church.

His wife, Mrs. Ethel Lancaster, died Dec. 25, 1972 and a son, Frank Lancaster, died in 1965.

Survivors include three other sons, Daniel Lancaster of Eminence, LaRon Lancaster of Granite City, and George Lancaster, Troy, Ill.; two daughters, Mrs. Harry (Opal) Orrell, Granite City, and Mrs. Emmett (Ruth) Jones, Glen Carbon; 13 grandchildren; 26 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Beaten with tire iron

Terry Ray Christopher, 21, St. Louis, suffered a broken nose and cuts and abrasions to his face when he was struck with a tire iron on Route 360 about 12:30 a.m. Friday.

Christopher was a passenger in the car of Carl J. Marsala, St. Louis, which was southbound on Route 3 and stopped in the left turn lane for West Chain of Rocks Road behind another auto.

Both reported the driver of the other car got out and staggered to the passenger side of Marsala's auto and exchanged words with Christopher. Christopher then got out of the car and a scuffle ensued, officers were told.

Marsala said Christopher then got back in the car and said he had been struck with a tire iron on the back of his head and his face and his nose appeared broken, Marsala related.

He drove to the gate of the Granite City Army installation and asked that police be called. Granite City police arrived and called for an ambulance, but when none arrived within a few minutes, Christopher was taken in a police car to St. Elizabeth.

He was treated for a broken nose and facial cuts and abrasions and was transferred to St. Louis City Hospital.

Robbers

he took the money and the owner's wallet. The robber then ordered both men to the upstairs living quarters and told them to remain there until he left.

The victims described the gunman as about 26 to 27 years of age, about 6 feet tall, weighing about 145 pounds and having sideburns and a mustache.

At 9:45 p.m. Wednesday, Granite City police were informed the Taco Hut had just been robbed by a young man, a woman employee said the robber walked around the south end of the building and came to the front window, standing with his back to the window.

She opened the service window and asked what he wanted. The robber then pulled his shirt up to cover the bottom half of his face and he turned to the window and displayed a small caliber semi-automatic pistol and said, "Give me the money."

The clerk said she thought the gun was a toy and the man was joking, so she partially closed the window and began to walk toward the back room when another employee told her he did not think it was a joke and said she should give the robber the money.

She returned to the window and asked the gunman if he wanted the change also. He said he did and she asked if she could go into the backroom to get a paper bag. He agreed and she returned with the bag and placed the cash and change in the bag, handing it to him.

The robber then walked back around the south side of the building.

It is believed about $148 was stolen. The Taco Hut robber was described as about 5 feet, 9 inches tall, weighing about 180 pounds, having blond frizzy hair worn in a ponytail, and having deep-set blue eyes, a heavy face and fat cheeks.

He wore a navy blue sweat-shirt, and blue denim pants and jacket. He is believed to be about 25-years-of-age.

Presley alleged the victim was hitting an old man with a cue stick when he fired to attract attention to stop the beating, authorities related.

Witnesses said a fight in the tavern about a half-hour earlier involved the victim or his friends.

They said the "troublemaker" had been thrown out after the bartender was struck by a pool cue.

After the shooting, the woman who had been playing pool with Mr. Waits ran to his mother's home and told her there had been a shooting.

The mother and other relatives ran to the tavern and one man said Mrs. Waits got to her son moments before he was killed.

Friends said they did not believe Mr. Waits would intentionally beat an old man. They described him as "a small young man whom you could almost blow over," and said he was not known to get involved in fights.

Born in East St. Louis, he resided in Granite City before moving to Madison a year ago.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Barbara Waits; two brothers, Glen and Richard Waits, both of Scappoose, Ore.; three sisters, Miss Kathy Waits, Collinsville, Mrs. Paul (Wanda) Fournier, Madison, and Miss Tonya Waits, Madison; two step-brothers, Jim Tunley Jr. and Larry Tunley, both of Collinsville; and grandparents, Mrs. Ruby Lane, Madison, and Mrs. and Mrs. Elmer Waits, Denver, Colo.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Presley was released from the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville Friday after posting $1,000 cash to cover a $10,000 bond.

liquor in his anger over sales to young people.

In 1923, the fire department was modernized and a new truck was purchased. The original Presbyterian Church burned in 1924, and a new church was built and dedicated in 1928.

Fourth and Fifth Streets were paved in 1928, followed by Madison Avenue, State Street and East Third Street in 1928.

The same year, a Madison Avenue "white way" lighting system was installed.

The Chain of Rocks bridge was purchased by the village of Madison in 1929 for $2,300,000 from the Kingshighway Bridge Co.

This set the pattern for later purchase of the McKinley Bridge by Venice.

The McKinley Bridge construction originally had been opposed by Venice officials, who delayed authorization for hauling of freight along Main Street to Broadway.

So stout was the Venice opposition in 1907 that the bridge backers for a time studied whether the Mississippi River span could be made to connect instead with Madison.

Later the same year, approval was given after it was brought out that the local area would become an important terminus on a street car system extending from St. Louis to Chicago.

The War Department gave its approval.

The first caisson was placed in the river Dec. 6, 1907, and it proved possible to start passenger car service between St. Louis and the Quad-Cities Oct. 1, 1910, stimulating further growth of Madison as well as the other local municipalities.

The Broadway railroad viaduct was built in 1937, it proved improving the travel between Madison and Venice.

Population of Madison had been about 7,661 in 1920, but dropped during the depression years.

Robert Dron succeeded Leche as head of the village in 1937.

In October 1941, Madison celebrated its 50th anniversary as a village by holding a celebration that lasted a full week.

Less than one year later, the citizens voted to incorporate as a city.

This ended Dron's presidency after five years; it had been an eventful period that included acquisition of the bridge.

Stephen A. Maeras, a businessman and accountant, was elected as Madison's first mayor.

He had previously served as village trustee and as a member and president of the board of education.

He immediately acted to set up a city plan commission. The commission was set up and was affiliated with the State of Illinois Post War Plan Commission.

Maeras followed suggestions of the federal government for communities desiring government aid, and a program of public improvements was laid out.

During the immediate postwar years, Madison underwent a period of prosperity. As industries prospered, there was more and more need for manpower and the population grew.

David Crawford, 69, dies here

David Edward Crawford, 69, of 4137 North Drive, a retired employee of Granite City Steel, died at 4:30 p.m. Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where he had been admitted two hours earlier.

Born in St. Louis, he resided there until moving to this area 39 years ago.

Mr. Crawford worked as a pipefitter for 30 years at a local plant before he retired four years ago.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Lessie Crawford; four children, Air Force Sergeant Thomas Crawford, William Murray, Roxana, Miss Ida Mae Murray, California; Mrs. Earl (Dorothy) Lancaster, Troy; his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Winberger; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

marrying and another housing shortage developed. Quonset huts were erected to relieve the situation.

Plans were made to construct a war memorial. A suitable plot composed of 21 city lots was purchased in 1945 at Seventh Street and Lee Avenue.

Funds were raised both by solicitation and general obligation bonds.

Plans were broadened and included a second memorial center in West Madison.

A five-member Board of Recreation and Playground Directors was appointed to operate and direct the recreational and playground facilities and supervise the memorial centers.

Madison's public library was erected in 1947. It was financed for the city by the Madison fire company.

In October 1948, the memorial center recreation hall was opened and dedicated.

It was a time for school expansion, too. In 1945, plans were made for additions to the Louis Baer and Dunbar Schools and for a new high school which would allow conversion of the old high school into the present junior high.

The old Madison High had been built in 1914 when the enrollment was only 51 students; in 1948, there were 462 high school students.

In the same period, 1914 to 1948, overall school population jumped from 1,215 students to 2,195.

Madison since has continued to improve its public facilities. The last trolley ran through Madison in 1958, as buses replaced street cars.

In 1964, Madison acquired an industrial park which it is continuing to develop.

Proceeds for the city government help make up for those received through the 1960s from the Chain of Rocks Bridge.

With intense competition for the Interstate 270 free bridge, it became unprofitable to operate the city-owned bridge and it was closed.

The bridge remains available for sale.

Mike Sausk was elected as mayor after interim service by Raymond Kozielec following the death of Mayor Maeras. The industrial park's name perpetuates the memory of the 34-year-old city's first mayor.

Telephone service, rates jeopardized?

Current policies of the Federal Communications Commission will lead to higher rates and poorer service for most telephone users, R. E. Neathammer, president of Eastern Illinois Telephone Corp. and of the Illinois Telephone Association, said Friday.

The Illinois Telephone Association membership is made up of 60 telephone companies that provide service throughout the state.

"The FCC's actions could mean that local rates for home telephone service may have to be increased by as much as 75 per cent," Neathammer predicted.

"We believe the FCC's tinkering with the world's finest telephone service has become a public issue that only Congress can resolve."

"And that's the message 33 members of the Illinois Telephone Association are going to bring to Illinois congressmen in Washington. Neathammer said the ITA members will call on the Illinois legislators tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday and ask their support of the proposed Consumer Communications Reform Act of 1976, which is designed to resolve the issue of the FCC's actions to the benefit of all telephone users."

He said the FCC has been promoting what it calls "competition" in certain sectors of the telecommunications industry. "What actually is developing however," he said, "is a government-mandated allocation of the market."

As an example, Neathammer cited the interstate private line market, where telephone companies are required to serve all markets, regardless of the volume of business or profit. He said phone companies average the costs of providing service over different communications routes and base their rates on these averaged costs.

"But the competing suppliers of interstate private-line service have been allowed to skim the cream by limiting their operations to high-volume, low-cost routes, the most profitable markets, and have taken away business because they can underprice the phone companies' averaged rates," Neathammer said.

"The introduction of competition, real or contrived, in the telephone industry involves major economic implications for tens of millions of small communications users—with particular impact on low-income families and those living on fixed incomes," he said.

The ITA president asserted that revenues from long-distance calls, services for business, and optional services are now used to cover substantial costs of facilities needed to provide basic home telephone service, thus holding down rates to the local residence customer.

"But the FCC's 'competitive' policies will reduce the funds available to hold down the cost of the home users' phone service. "Pricing basic home telephone service on a stand-alone basis—that is, denying it the support it currently derives from other services—will mean sharp increases in charges to residence customers," he said.

"If all support from other services were to be lost, because of losses to competition or because of repricing to respond to competition, monthly rates for local residence phones would have to be increased by about 75 per cent."

Neathammer argued that a look at the record shows that the U.S. telephone industry provides communications services of higher quality, at lower prices, to more people than in any other country. "The regulated telephone companies believe the policies currently being pursued by the FCC will undermine this performance, both in terms of quality and in the price of basic service for 67 million American households," he said.

"This is an issue that Congress must decide, and decide promptly, before the current course becomes irreversible," he continued.

The telephone industry proposes an amendment to the Communications Act of 1934 to "reaffirm the original intent of the Congress in passing the Act," Neathammer said, and to set the course for the future of the nation's telecommunications system.

He said the proposed amendment to the Communications Act would reaffirm:

1. "The national goal of universal service, a goal that assures the widest availability of high-quality communications service at the lowest cost to the user public."

2. "The natural monopoly concept of the interstate telecommunications system."

3. "The jurisdiction of the states over regulation of terminal and station equipment connected to the telephone network."

"The telephone industry believes the current contradiction between traditional national telecommunications policy—a policy that has produced the best telephone service in the world—and the recent FCC decisions favoring so-called 'competition' needs to be resolved," Neathammer said.

"We believe the resolution can only be achieved through action by Congress."

Course for school personnel

Owen F. Humphrey, coordinator of Granite City School District, had informed the School Board that Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has agreed to provide an extension course in metric education to interested certificated personnel in the district, to begin Thursday, April 29, and continue for five consecutive Thursdays, ending May 27.

Richard Teichman of the Alton School District will be the instructor from 5:30 to 8:30 each session at Grigsby Junior High School cafeteria.

Humphrey added that Don Baden and Bob Williams of the SIUE elementary education staff has invited participation in a special course offering, "Processes of Science and Social Studies" from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Harris School, Madison, from March 30 to June 1 every Tuesday.

Use of facilities were given by the board to Girl Scout Troop 267 on April 21. Granite City Steel Employees Federal Credit Union on Jan. 30, 1977; Masquers, Inc., on April 31; Madison County Food Association on June 14.

Gifts accepted by the board were from Namook PTA, a 3M copy machine for use at the school, and Lake School and Marshall PTA to construct a junk playground there. Requests for student trips were granted by the board.

$123,000 JURY AWARD
A Madison County Circuit Court jury, in the courtroom of Judge John Gitchoff at Edwardsville, has awarded John Lynch Jr. $123,000 after deliberating and ruling against the Norfolk and Western Railway Co. in a suit. Beaten with soda bottle

Mrs. Linda Goodman, 21, of 4207 Kirkpatrick Homes, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital after being beaten and struck with a soft drink bottle in her home at 3:30 a.m. Friday.

She said a man, who may have had a key, entered and struck the rear of her head with the bottle, causing a cut. During the scuffle she also broke or sprained the middle finger of her right hand. A lamp in the living room also was broken. She received stitches to close the cut to her head and a splint was applied to her finger before she was released from the hospital.

TELEVISION STOLEN

Joe Wood, 2013 Rock Road, told police at 3:35 a.m. Saturday that he returned home and after noticing a front door open discovered a radio broken and a black and white television set, valued at $70, missing. There were no signs of forced entry.

Juvenile is charged in two car breakins

Petitions were filed in juvenile court late last week against a 15-year-old boy who allegedly was responsible for breaking into two cars in the 2700 block of Maryville Road Wednesday.

Robert Pacheco, 2729 Maryville Road, reported his wife noticed the interior light of his car was on and looked outside to see someone in the car.

Pacheco said he went outside and approached the car to see a youth lying in the front seat. He saw he shut the car door, trapping one of the youth's legs between the door and the car frame and held him while his wife called police.

Officers found a box near Pacheco's car which contained items allegedly stolen from his car and the car of Billy J. Hendrickson, 2715 Maryville Road, parked in the driveway next door to Pacheco's home.

After being arrested the youth tore the zipper from his coat and tied it to the top bars of his jail cell in the Granite City police station, it was alleged. The other side was formed into a nose and officers who were checking the cells reported they saw the youth about to put his neck into the nose and they entered the cell and removed the hanging zipper.

The boy was not harmed and later was taken to the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home at Edwardsville.

Governor retains much administrative, political power; filing for next term 11 months after '76 winner is seated

Two facts, that Illinois a few years ago began scheduling its primary elections for March, and also adopted a new constitution, may have a big impact now that voters have rejected an incumbent governor for the first time in many decades.

Governor Daniel Walker will remain in office another nine and a half months, including the significant spring and early summer portions of a major General Assembly session. And, thanks to the constitution, he retains power to virtually rewrite all legislation through veto amendments, and he could file petitions for the following governor election only 11 months after seeing his successor sworn in.

Terms being decided this year cover only a two-year term span so that state can separate its selection of officials from the Presidential campaign years.

This relatively short period may influence the "lame duck" governor's decision on whether to try to remain in office through a third party effort in 1976, or await the 1978 election process.

The March 16 primary loss, although clear-cut, does not rule out future political aspirations for Daniel Walker — although it obviously delays or derails his bid for the Presidency. It will be recalled that Charles Peryer suffered a defeat in the 1964 governor race but rebounded two years later to nail down a seat in the U. S. Senate.

Gov. Walker led in 86 of the 102 counties last week while trailing by 114,000 statewide out of a total of about a million and a half Democratic ballots. He still has many contacts and a robust political organization bolstered by gubernatorial appointive and patronage authority.

His area campaign coordinator, Gary Fears, already is telling of plans to utilize the primary apparatus as a permanent organization to dominate Madison County. He says one of the steps to be taken against party chief Nelson Hagnauer, Madison County Board chairman, will be petitions seeking to make the board chairman subject to direct public election rather than by board members.

Due to the interest in this year's competition, particularly on the Democratic side, there was a somewhat heavy county turnout — 48,623 in this county, including 39,842 Democratic and 8,781 Republican votes. Walker led governor-nominee Michael Howlett 21,872-15,902.

Gasoline conversion being simplified

(American Chemical Society)
A simple, one-step process providing "the final link in the conversion of coal to gasoline" is reported in a current issue of Chemtech, a monthly publication of the American Chemical Society.

"With this process we can carry the existing coal to gas to methanol sequence all the way to high octane gasoline in only one relatively small added step," say authors S. L. Meisel, John P. McCullough, Charles H. Lechthal and Paul B. Weiss — in the high research officials in the design of the zeolite catalyst.

Although 25 per cent of the hydrocarbons formed are gases, they can be converted in an additional step, using known technology, to liquids usable in gasoline, raising the total yield to 50 per cent high octane gasoline from methanol.

The authors estimate a cost of 90-100 research octane number (RON) in one step, is based on "molecular engineering" in the design of the zeolite catalyst.

Other candidates are Edward A. Root, Masco, Inc.; Terrence G. Scandrett of Belleville, Leonard "Lucky" Cucco of Belleville, Sam Light of Collinsville, Eric Ligh of Belleville, Robert H. Dintelmans of Belleville and Elizabeth Jenner of Mascoutah.

The deadline for withdrawal of candidates in all four districts is 4 p.m. Tuesday.

The Board appointed Kochman acting president March 11, filling the position left vacant by the death of President John S. Hendeman, March 4.

Coalition President Stanley Nosz told the Illinois Energy Resources Commission Friday that the coal gasification plant in New Athens, St. Clair County, will create 1,000 new jobs by the time it is completed in 1980.

Granite City is about the same but the 1975 trend shows a decline in particulates above Collinsville, Belleville, Farmington, Edwardsville and Wood River, Robert A. Arnold, Air Pollution Division, Illinois Environmental Protection Agency said Saturday. Alton has fluctuated above and below desired air quality levels.

The Federal Communications Commission voted 5-2 Thursday to expand the types of customer-owned equipment that may be directly connected to telephone lines. Approval of switchboards, main phones and key phones virtually eliminates control by telephone firms over installation of equipment in homes and offices. Only pay phones continue to be an exception.

The U. S. State Department said Thursday that American boys and girls' physical fitness has not improved in the last ten years although showing slight gains in 1968-69. More girls than boys have shown improvement in recent years.

February consumer prices rose one tenth of one per cent, the smallest monthly hike since September 1971, reflecting a continuing slowdown in the inflation rate.

The U. S. Senate passed Thursday and sent to the House a bill authorizing the Food and Drug Administration to regulate labeling of food for nutritional value.

Noting that $500 construction worldwide crude oil supply approaches and finally crosses the rising curve of demand. When that era arrives, we should be prepared to move into it with proved technology and in-place facilities."

Cost of gasoline derived from coal, utilizing the new last step would be 50 to 100 per cent higher than the cost of gasoline distilled from petroleum in the conventional way, they estimate.

However, this cost is due largely to the expense of producing methanol from coal and would fall rapidly with improvement in the efficiency of the steps in that process, they write.

Processes now existing for production of gasoline from coal produce a relatively low grade product that requires extensive upgrading before it is suitable for use in auto engines.

Gasoline has many advantages over methanol for use in existing automobiles. Besides coal and natural gas, these include waste wood, paper and other sources of cellulose.

Use of methanol as a "feedstock" for production of synthetic gasoline, however, is attractive because methanol can be produced from a wide array of carbon-rich materials.

Many neglect anti-measles immunization

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

Being a child back in "the good old days" was different from being a child in today's world. Back then, children weren't transported everywhere in the family car...they didn't "hang on" the telephone for hours...or sit in front of the television set.

In those days, when you were sent to your room, it was a real punishment...children's rooms were not equipped with tv sets, radios or telephones. If you wanted to go somewhere, chances are you had to walk or, if you lived in the city, take a bus.

There are many modern conveniences that make life for today's children easier and more pleasant than it was for their parents and grandparents. And, while many people feel that perhaps children today have too many luxuries, most parents will not deny their children whatever modern conveniences they can give them.

There is one problem of yesterday, however, that today's children can live very well without — measles. In the past, having measles was a part of growing up. Because of this, many people made the mistake of thinking of measles as a harmless childhood disease. Today, we know that isn't

Building values at $61,000

Twenty-six building permits with values totaling $61,000 were granted by Granite City during the first half of March.

True, Measles can be extremely harmful. In the past, thousands of children were left blind, deaf or mentally retarded by measles.

Today, children don't have to get measles. We have a vaccine to prevent it. This is one modern convenience all children should have.

It's easily obtainable, it doesn't cost much, and a measles vaccination will spare your child—and you—from the illness itself and from the possibility of having to live the rest of his life with hearing or vision or mental defects.

Why, then, do so many parents neglect measles immunization for their children? Why do so many parents, who give their children everything they can, overlook giving them protection against disease?

If your children are not protected against measles, why not have them immunized right away?

Call your physician today and ask about it. Give your children a gift of health. It sure beats a tv set!

If you cannot get to a private physician, contact the Illinois Department of Public Health, Immunization Program, 535 W. Jefferson, Springfield 62761. Telephone 217-782-3300. Arrangements will be made to immunize your child.

The permits included seven for additions totaling $11,650, two for garages valued at $6,500, 14 to remodel or repair structures at a total cost of $31,850, one for a $4,700 Foto-Mat building, one for a $5,300 mobile home and one for a $1,000 storage shed.

Three permits also were granted to raze structures, including two to St. Elizabeth Hospital to raze four-family apartment buildings at 2136 and 2148 Washington Avenue, at a cost of $3,000 each.

The other razing permit was granted to Danny Chandler, 2015 Forest Ave., to raze a carport with no cost listed.

Construction permits were issued to: Kiro Vasiloff, 2335 Emerit, gables, $600; Granite City Press-Record, remodel front, $3,500; Roger Feltmeyer, 2605 Adams, room addition, $5,000; Diana McGuiness, 1739 Edison, repair apartment, $12,000; Phyllis Stewart, 1609 Poplar, new roof, $700, and Clifton McFarland, 1342 Meridian, room addition, $500.

B. C. Gitchie, 1511 Johnson Road, resurface drive, $1,000; Frank Hoxsey, 2043 Amos, extend garage, $1,200; Joseph Michels, 2606 Iowa, overhang and facing, $1,100; Louise Thompson, 2914 Yale, overhang and facing, $2,700; Jacob-smeyer's Tavern, 2401 Edwards, internal partition, $200; and William Scroggins, 703 Twenty-ninth St., garage addition, $150.

Kenneth Phillips, 1860 Poplar, siding, $2,700; Carps Department Store, 1305 Nineteenth, reroof building, $1,000; Edna Lederidge, 2305 Washington, roof, $2,000; Robert Hoppe, 2439 Washington, screen in porch and siding, $2,500; Walter Griffith, 2814 Harding, mobile home, $5,300; Donald Sparks, 2320 Lynch, garage, $3,500; Thomas Krinski, 3309 Franklin, patio and storage shed, $1,000; and Glen Hollis, 3030 Madison Ave., Foto-Mat, $4,700.

Homer Jordan, 2836 W. 29th, partition wall, $800; Jim Kiely, 1704 Bremen, room addition, $2,200; Danny Chandler, 2015 Forest, garage, $3,000; Elmer Wittenbrink, 3337 Johnson, aluminum siding, $2,000; Hartley Cox, 1359 Norwood, patio, $100; and Harold Sabo, 3030 Madison Ave., interior remodeling, $1,500.

Approve enlargement of Madison school garage

The Madison Board of Education Thursday evening approved the purchasing of materials and the beginning of work immediately on expanding and enclosing the school district's maintenance garage.

Eldon Rhoads, maintenance supervisor for the district, reported the materials will cost about $600 and the work can be done by the district's maintenance personnel at no additional cost.

The board reviewed applications and agreed to hire William Menig, a graduate of Eastern Illinois University at Charleston, as the industrial arts teacher for the Madison Junior High School for the remainder of this school year. Approval was given to plans for the annual junior class prom which is to be held May 8 from 8 p.m. to midnight at Augustine's Restaurant, Belleville.

It was reported that the administration is studying new regulations which may require the cafeteria supervisor in each school to be trained and receive a certificate on food sanitation. Superintendent John Palchoff said the question is being studied further.

Presently, only the district's cafeteria director, Evelyn Holt, has completed the seminars necessary for such a certificate.

In other business the board: —Granted permission to the high school Choral Club to entertain the Venice Senior Citizens March 2 at noon.

—Approved plans for a Madison High School All Sports Banquet May 19.

—Agreed to allow students to voluntarily participate in a Madison High School All Sports "Send a Mouse to College" fund drive again this year.

—Accepted C. J. Schlessor, certified public accountant, to conduct the annual audit of the district's financial records for $1,200, the same price the firm charged last year.

—Approved a trip planned by the Title III creativity class of Blair School to an East St. Louis school to present a play.

—Gave Art Carter, assistant principal at the high school, permission to attend a conference for assistant principals in Springfield.

COUPON BOOK SALE for the 1976 Mississippi River Festival season will be launched this week by volunteers in communities throughout the area. The books sell for $20 and offer $25 worth of tickets good for any River Festival event, June 23 through Aug. 21. Discussing the campaign are Lyle Ward, managing director, and Mrs. Sue Helper, chairman of Illinois volunteers.

River Fest coupon sale

Volunteers selling Mississippi River Festival pre-season coupon books have become even more important this year, according to Festival Managing Director Lyle Ward. The sale will begin this week.

"With the upcoming season expanded again over last year's successful season, the dual purpose served by the volunteers has become extra significant," said Ward.

"Their handling of the coupon book sales, of course, is a major factor in the success of the Festival, with a current goal of $100,000. And their other function, distributing information and helping with public relations, is also becoming significant."

Ward feels that the volunteers are becoming an integral part of the Mississippi River Festival's management.

"We depend on their advice and information about the Festival," he said. "They help us decide what sort of programming we should have, and give us valuable input on scheduling, artist selection and similar details."

With this season's expanded fine arts and educational programs, the coupon books being sold by the volunteers have taken on added impact.

Festival General Manager Vicky Holt noted that the coupons in the books, which sell for $20 and offer $25 worth of tickets, are "good for any Festival event, including the fine arts programs and the educational programs, such as the jazz and dance performances."

This year's River Festival is scheduled to open June 23 and end nine weeks later on Aug. 21. Coupons may be redeemed by mail or in person at the SIUE at Edwardsville ticket office in the University Center, or at more than 40 bi-state outlets which open in early June for sales of coupon books and tickets.

New rules on student records go into effect

Rules and regulations governing student records, approved by the State Board of Education, will take effect officially on Wednesday.

The regulations are being issued in accordance with the Illinois School Student Records Act. Each school and school district will be required to adopt procedures to comply with the act and these regulations. Both permanent and temporary student records are covered.

A student's permanent record includes basic identifying information, such as name, birth date and place, gender, academic transcript, attendance record, accident reports, health record and a record of release of information from the file.

It may also include honors and awards and a listing of participation in school-sponsored activities.

All student information not included in the permanent record is filed in the temporary record. This file may include anything from family background information, student test scores, or any other information relevant to the student's education.

By Oct. 1, 1976, all schools will be required to notify students and parents of the rights detailed in the act. It will be up to the school to determine the method of notification: direct mailing, parent-teacher conference or informational brochure.

To make sure all information is accurate, by March 24, 1977, all schools will be required to review the records of students presently enrolled.

Through this procedure, entries will be verified. Out-of-date, misleading or unnecessary information will be corrected or eliminated.

The rules specify that in releasing information from student records, in general, the school must seek prior written consent of the parent.

Parents must also be informed of their right to inspect the records, to challenge their contents and to limit their consent to designated records.

Each school will be required to establish administrative procedures for parents to question the contents of their children's student records.

VEIHL THE WINNER
Ernest E. Veihl Jr. received 39 votes to win as Republican precinct committeeman of Granite City Precinct 17, defeating George Knapp with 30 votes. Official totals will be available after the canvass of the votes is completed later this week.

Zoning, annexation for nursing home approved

Construction of a new 122-bed nursing home near the Steelcrest subdivision on Mockingbird Lane will cost an estimated $1,800,000, of which $50,000 will be spent for a sanitary sewer line that will meet all city requirements, Jerry Maeres of Madison, developer of the project, has told city officials.

City Council members, following Maeres' presentation and a discussion in which Street Superintendent Lionel Portell said he believed the Lexington subdivision sewers would handle additional sewage from the nursing home, concurred in a recommendation by the City Plan Commission that the proposed construction site be rezoned and that the tract be annexed to the city.

Under the council's action the 10-acre tract will be zoned R-5 (multiple-residential) which will permit construction of the nursing home. The Plan Commission recommendation provided that a 125-foot buffer zone be established between the nursing home tract and the Steelcrest subdivision, and that in the event the nursing home project was not undertaken, the R-5 zoning would become null and void.

Maeres told the council that planning for the nursing home will include $50,000 for the sewer line and $1,750,000 for general construction and that it will comply "in all ways" with city building codes.

The request for rezoning and annexation was given the council in its Feb. 2 meeting, but action at that time was held up to clarify adequacy of available sewer lines to handle the additional load.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward who originally called for more details on the sanitary sewer arrangements, asked Portell last week if he believed that the sewer line proposed to connect with the nursing home would handle the additional load.

Portell said that repair work on a broken sewer line near Faith Avenue and the grouting weakened sewers in the area had been highly successful and that he believed the line would be adequate for the additional service.

Council members approved the rezoning and annexation without a dissenting vote.

Venice council demands railroad track repairs

Members of the Venice City Council criticized executives of the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad Tuesday night over failure of the railroad to keep the Broadway crossing repaired.

The council received several complaints from citizens regarding what was described by one as "a giant hole" near the last track heading toward St. Louis on the inside lane.

Feelings became critical about the lack of cooperation from the railroad that Mayor William M. Ebersold had his administrative aid, Thomas Fields telephone Henry Haney, vice-president and general superintendent, at his home during the meeting.

Mayor Ebersold in "plain language" told Haney that he, the city council and Venice citizens are tired of being "put off" and given unkept promises. The Senior Citizens Club was given permission to charter a bus Sunday, April 13, to attend the Golden Rod showboat.

The treasurer's report for the month of February, showing general fund receipts of $14,905 and disbursements of $56,983, was read and approved.

Three get 113 to 183 years in Horvat murder, beatings

Three young East St. Louis men who allegedly broke into a home, beat and tortured the three occupants, fatally injuring the father, have been sentenced to prison terms totaling from 113 to 184 years each. The victims, members of the George Horvat family, were former Granite City residents.

Jasper Glenn, 18, Ronnie Lee Cunningham, 18, and Carl Wayne Wilson, 18, all of East St. Louis, were sentenced by St. Clair Circuit Judge Carl Becker to serve a 100 to 150 year sentence each for murder, followed by concurrent 10-to-25-year and three-to-nine-year sentences each for armed robbery and two counts of aggravated battery.

Mr. Horvat, 60, his wife, Laura, 60, and their 35-year-old son, Louis, were in their East St. Louis home Feb. 13, 1975, when three teenagers broke into the house, severely beat all three and bludgeoned Mr.

Horvat to death.

Louis' right ear was cut off and Mr. Horvat's right ear was severely cut. The two survivors were sprayed with gold paint and flour. Food and cooking oil were poured on them and they were beaten repeatedly with pipes, vases and other items. The hands of all three were crushed and they suffered massive bruises during the beatings, which were believed to have lasted about two hours.

Cunningham and Wilson were convicted by juries of the charges during trials in Chester, Ill., and Glenn was found guilty in a bench trial before Judge Becker.

Under state law, all three will be brought before a parole board during their 12th year of imprisonment and their cases will be reviewed for possible parole.

Mr. Horvat formerly was an insurance salesman in Granite City and Mrs. Horvat taught in the Granite City public schools nearly 11 years, dealing with children requiring special education.

Accidental poisonings average 2 a day here

By WILLIAM M. OLSON, R.Ph.
Staff Pharmacist
St. Elizabeth Hospital

Granite City, Illinois
National Poison Prevention Week (March 21-27) is proclaimed each year by the President of the United States as a period of observance to aid in encouraging the American people to learn and be aware of the dangers of accidental poisoning and to take such preventive measures as are warranted by the seriousness of the danger.

The American Medical Association estimates there are 200,000 potentially toxic products commercially available on the market today. The National Health Survey estimates that there are 600,000 to one million children who accidentally ingest potentially toxic substances each year.

Over 200,000 requests for information concerning accidental ingestions of household substances were received last year by the 580 Poison Control Centers located across the U. S. These requests and/or treatments involved children under five years of age.

The Poison Control Center of St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City alone treated 609 poisoning cases last year.

St. Elizabeth has one of 74 centers in Illinois. The center's service is available on a 24-hour basis, seven days a week. Together with the hospital's pharmacy staff, the specially trained physicians and nurses of the poison control center provide information on all types of poisons and poisonings as well as to the layman when he calls.

Today, as a result of efforts of the Federal Consumer Product Safety Commission and new special packaging of drug products as required under the provisions of the Poison Prevention Packaging Act of 1970—the number of deaths among children under five years of age from aspirin poisoning alone has declined 48 per cent.

While this is encouraging, each American must be aware that the human element is still the number one factor in the prevention of accidental poisonings.

There are innumerable common household items that children tend to swallow.

Some less frequently discussed products of toxic potential found in the home include: after shave lotions, colognes and perfumes, ink, barbecue and cigarette lighter fluid, bleach, body conditioners, Bubble bath soaps, certain bath tub floating toys (those containing glycerin or mineral oil), model cements or glue, deodorizer cakes, house plants, kerosene, gasoline, paint thinner.

Furniture polish, paint, matches, roach tablets, rodent bait, Polaroid pictures (the developing pods), detergents, oven cleaners, shampooes, Silver polish, garden supplies (insecticides, fertilizers, etc.), vitamins (especially fat soluble ones and those containing iron), smoke pellets for trains, and many more.

Keep these products in mind, and make your home a safe place for your youngster by keeping these out of sight and reach.

Recognizing the symptoms of poisoning is important. If you notice an open bottle that had been closed or one which contains less than it should, expect the worst. Your child may have been at the contents. If you suspect your child has swallowed a deadly or potentially toxic substance, the first thing to do is give a quick look near the child to ascertain the substance ingested.

Then call your doctor, pharmacist, or poison control center and an ambulance quickly. If you have been able to identify the poisoning agent, have the container ready so the physician can examine the label.

Take the container along to the hospital. Do not delay contacting a professional for advice.

Keep the phone number of your nearest poison control center handy for use in an emergency.

The St. Elizabeth Hospital Poison Control Center is reached at 876-2020, Extension 421.

It's a good practice to keep a bottle of Syrup of Peac (available at most drug stores) in your home to induce vomiting (when indicated) in cases of swallowed poisons.

Always call for advice and/or read the directions for the proper use of Syrup of Ipecac beforehand.

And remember—don't induce vomiting if the patient is unconscious, if the poison is a strong corrosive such as acid, lye or drain cleaner, or is one of the petroleum distillates such as gasoline, lighter fluid or furniture polish.

Be conscious of poisons and "prepare for the unexpected" 52 weeks a year.

Remember, over 90 per cent of all poisonings can be prevented by the simplest precautions.

CHILDREN START FIRE

Children playing with matches were believed to have set a mattress on fire at the home of Lloyd Sullivan, 4164 Nameoki Road, last week. Only the mattress burned and damage was estimated at $50. Firemen were on the scene 20 minutes.

Millions of pieces of mail in Midwest damaged, discarded

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Amiable and able Congressman Ed Derwinski of Illinois wears a pained look these days when he talks of his "wayward godchild," the U.S. Postal Service.

"I haven't lost faith," insists the Bloomington Republican in the face of mounting evidence that the quasi-corporation Congress created to carry the mail is a colossal bungler.

Ranking minority member of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, Derwinski was one of the original sponsors of the postal corporation. So was Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., who wants to be President, although he is not bragging about it.

USPS has raised rates exorbitantly and sharply reduced service. Largely at the behest of Cong. Paul Simon, Downstate Democrat, it is under federal court order not to abandon rural post offices.

And now its $1 billion investment in 21 bulk mail centers threatens to become a gigantic shredding machine nationwide.

The mind-boggling bulk-mail damage revealed at Detroit, Philadelphia and Chicago—3.7 million pieces lost in the mail there alone—has visibly stunned Derwinski and he voices his shock.

"If it happened in private industry, someone would walk the plank," Derwinski said in an interview, blaming a "massive" lapse in management. "They would have to be fired."

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar seems to ascribe his woes to anything but management. Only a day before the "surprise" loss at Detroit, Bailar did precisely that in a speech there.

After the Detroit disclosure, however, postal authorities admitted they had a similar problem in Chicago.

"It's no secret that it was the mail handlers who blew the whistle on Detroit," said a committee source familiar with the investigation. "They were right; it was exactly as they described it."

Rep. Charles H. Wilson, D-Calif., a subcommittee member, and three staffers descended on the main post office at Detroit and found 175 canvas mail hampers chockful of thousands of pieces of damaged mail from the bulk center outside the city. Then they made a flying visit to Philadelphia.

Derwinski praised Wilson for "turning the spotlight on the mail damage rate in the bulk mail system."

Cong. Derwinski said he and a staff member will make an on-site investigation of the damage rate in Chicago in preparation for committee hearings here next week.

Probably the first real evidence that the highly-touted bulk mail operation is a shambles came from the center at Largo, Md., where it was alleged recently that the top echelon had been throwing out damaged mail.

Bulk centers were created as an efficient way to handle mail, but only three of the 21 directors have had any prior experience, the committee source said.

Despite the staggering breakdown in mechanization, Derwinski still believes in it.

"Eighty-six per cent of postal costs are in personnel," he says. "The only way to level rates is to reduce personnel, and the only way to do that is through automation."

Derwinski believes, aside from that and the caliber of management, the service suffers from a lack of work ethic as well. "The other problem is the fall-off in productivity. Postal workers want to realize they can't kid the goose that lays the golden egg."

While conceding that the latest debacle "gives the postal service a black eye at a time it can ill afford it," Derwinski remains opposed to putting it back under the subsidized wing of Congress.

"We can't run it with the spoils system of the past," he maintains. "It can work—it must work. It can, with proper management."

Mathematics competition

More than 750 high school mathematicians will take over the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale Arena Saturday for problem solving abilities tests.

The 19th annual Mathematics Field Day is expected to draw students and teachers from 52 high schools for a mass competitive examination, including Granite City South and Granite City North.

While students are completing the examination—from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday—accompanying teachers will hear a discussion of SIUC computer-assisted instructional systems and new university mathematics programs.

Top-scoring individuals and teams in two categories—schools with more than 750 students and those with fewer than that number—will be recognized in awards ceremonies scheduled for 2:15 p.m. in the SIUC Arena.

There will be a coffee hour for teachers, beginning at 9 a.m. in Neckers B240, and a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the Student Center.

Plan before you plant!

Before you plant a new tree around your home consider these points:

- Will the roots damage the foundation of your home, or damage the house sewer tile?
- Will branches brush cars using the driveway, or obstruct a driver's vision?
- As the tree grows will branches drag across the roof and drop leaves in the gutter, or come dangerously close to your house?
- Is the tree you have selected a clean, long-lived tree with strong branching? (Fast-growing trees are usually weak-wooded and short-lived trees that scatter dead limbs on your yard.)
- Will the tree provide shade where you want it? (Too much shade will weaken or kill out grass.)
- Will it soon grow into electric power wires and endanger service to yourself and your neighbors? (Over 90% of power failures occur where strong winds or sleet storms send branches and trees crashing through power lines.)
- Will you damage your underground gas or electric service line if you dig a hole for a new tree or bush? Call your Illinois Power office for assistance. We'll be glad to let you know where our underground lines are located near your home.

Plan before you plant—and your new trees will give you many years of enjoyment.
